

28th Nov - 4th Dec 2011 Edinburgh

MONDAY 28th November

Music

Sacconi Quartet, 19:45, £12-£21 (£11-£19 concession)

Mozart: Quartet in D, K575; Bartok: Quartet No.3;
Beethoven: Quartet in C, Op.59, No.3

Described as "an exceptional ensemble... with a unanimous sense of musical breadth and a meticulous attention to detail" (Musical Opinion)

The Queen's Hall, 87-89 Clerk Street, Edinburgh,
0131 668 2019

For live music in pubs visit

www.gigguide.co.uk

Comedy

Red Raw, Doors Open 19:30 Show 20:30, £2

The new talent night, which digs out the latest entertainers and offers older hands a place to test their newest gags.

The Stand, 5 York Place, 0131 558 7272

TUESDAY 29th November

Theatre

We Will Rock You, 19:30, £26.00-£44.00 (showing until 7th January)

The smash hit Queen and Ben Elton musical We Will Rock You is returning to the Edinburgh Playhouse, following its award-winning 2009 run.

The production is directed by Ben Elton, with Queen's Brian May and Roger Taylor as music supervisors and Arlene Phillips overseeing the musical staging and choreography.

Edinburgh Playhouse, 18-22 Greenside Place,
Edinburgh, EH1 3AA, Box office: 0844 847 1660

Aladdin, 10:00 & 13:45, £13.75 (£10.75), family £47 (showing until 7th January)

In ancient Peking, in the little known Scottish enclave of Musselburgh, only one boy can help the evil Abanazar find the magic lamp that will make him the most powerful warlock in the world. That boy is Aladdin. However, Aladdin couldn't care less about such things; he only has eyes for the beautiful Thistle Blossom, the bonniest lass in the land. Produced by Brunton Theatre and written and directed by Liam Rudden, this is a brand new pantomime for 2011.

Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Road, Musselburgh,
EH21 6AA, 0131 665 2240

Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker, 19:30, £12-£31

New Adventures' inspired production of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker! returns to Edinburgh. This delicious theatrical feast has family sized helpings of Matthew Bourne's trademark wit, pathos and magical fantasy. Nutcracker! follows Clara's bittersweet journey from a bleak night at Dr. Dross' Orphanage for waifs and strays, through a shimmering, ice-skating, winter wonderland to the scrumptious candy kingdom of Sweetieland. Edinburgh Festival Theatre, 13-29 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, 0131 529 6000

Harry Panto and the Goblet of Fuck Yeah! (In 3d), 19:30

A unique 3D experience, the Panto tells the story of a young wizard and his friends as they arrive back at their young wizard training academy for a fresh term of Christmas antics. With magic. And explosions.

An unauthorised parody, the Harry Panto is a charitable performance. All proceeds will be donated to charity.

Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 225 9893

Music

For live music in pubs visit
www.gigguide.co.uk

Ceilidh

The Ceilidh club @ The Bongo Club, 20:30, £6.00

Every Tuesday there is one of Scotland's top ceilidh bands, Ceilidh dancing, furious fiddlers and callers to lead you through the steps make this a great night, Featuring Lairds of the Dance. Over 18's only

Ceilidh Club@The Bongo Club, 37 Holyrood Road, Edinburgh

Comedy

Rob Deering's Christmas Special, 20:30, £10-£8

Rob Deering brings his inimitable blend of stand-up and music to bear on the subject of the season; a comedy gig, a mixtape, a party - RDXS - Rob Deering's Christmas Special - is all of the above and more.

The Stand, 5 York Place, 0131 558 7272

WEDNESDAY 30th November

Theatre

We Will Rock You, 14:30 & 19:30, £26.00-£44.00 (showing until 7th January)

The smash hit Queen and Ben Elton musical We Will Rock You is returning to the Edinburgh Playhouse, following its award-winning 2009 run. The production is directed by Ben Elton, with Queen's Brian May and Roger Taylor as music supervisors and Arlene Phillips overseeing the musical staging and choreography.

Edinburgh Playhouse, 18-22 Greenside Place, Edinburgh, EH1 3AA, Box office: 0844 847 1660

Aladdin, 10:00 & 13:45, £13.75 (£10.75), family £47 (showing until 7th January)

In ancient Peking, in the little known Scottish enclave of Musselburgh, only one boy can help the evil Abanazar find the magic lamp that will make him the most powerful warlock in the world. That boy is Aladdin. However, Aladdin couldn't care less about such things; he only has eyes for the beautiful Thistle Blossom, the bonniest lass in the land. Produced by Brunton Theatre and written and directed by Liam Rudden, this is a brand new pantomime for 2011.

Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Road, Musselburgh, EH21 6AA, 0131 665 2240

Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker, 19:30, £12-£31

New Adventures' inspired production of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker! returns to Edinburgh. This delicious theatrical feast has family sized helpings of Matthew Bourne's trademark wit, pathos and magical fantasy. Nutcracker! follows Clara's bittersweet journey from a bleak night at Dr. Dross' Orphanage for waifs and strays, through a shimmering, ice-skating, winter wonderland to the scrumptious candy kingdom of Sweetieland. Edinburgh Festival Theatre, 13-29 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, 0131 529 6000

Harry Panto and the Goblet of Fuck Yeah! (In 3d), 19:30

A unique 3D experience, the Panto tells the story of a young wizard and his friends as they arrive back at their young wizard training academy for a fresh term of Christmas antics. With magic. And explosions.

An unauthorised parody, the Harry Panto is a charitable performance. All proceeds will be donated to charity.

Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 225 9893

Music

Beethoven Cycle, 19:30

Beethoven: Grosse Fugue Op 133; Beethoven: Quartet in D major Op 18 No 3; Beethoven: Quartet in B flat major Op 130

St George's West, 58 Shandwick Place, Edinburgh, EH2 4RT

For live music in pubs visit
www.gigguide.co.uk

Comedy

Best of Scottish Comedy, 20:30, £6 (conc £5)

Talk about doing what it says on the tin! Here you go, a carload of simply the best comics on the contemporary Scottish circuit. At least four acts on every bill with seasoned headliners joining forces with newer kids on the comedy block each month. The Stand, 5 York Place, 0131 558 7272

Theatre

We Will Rock You, 19:30, £26.00–£44.00 (showing until 7th January)

The smash hit Queen and Ben Elton musical We Will Rock You is returning to the Edinburgh Playhouse, following its award-winning 2009 run. The production is directed by Ben Elton, with Queen's Brian May and Roger Taylor as music supervisors and Arlene Phillips overseeing the musical staging and choreography.
Edinburgh Playhouse, 18-22 Greenside Place, Edinburgh, EH1 3AA, Box office: 0844 847 1660

Aladdin, 10:00 & 13:45, £13.75 (£10.75), family £47 (showing until 7th January)

In ancient Peking, in the little known Scottish enclave of Musselburgh, only one boy can help the evil Abanazar find the magic lamp that will make him the most powerful warlock in the world. That boy is Aladdin. However, Aladdin couldn't care less about such things; he only has eyes for the beautiful Thistle Blossom, the bonniest lass in the land. Produced by Brunton Theatre and written and directed by Liam Rudden, this is a brand new pantomime for 2011.
Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Road, Musselburgh, EH21 6AA, 0131 665 2240

Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker, 14:30 & 19:30, £12-£31

New Adventures' inspired production of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker! returns to Edinburgh. This delicious theatrical feast has family sized helpings of Matthew Bourne's trademark wit, pathos and magical fantasy. Nutcracker! follows Clara's bittersweet journey from a bleak night at Dr. Dross' Orphanage for waifs and strays, through a shimmering, ice-skating, winter wonderland to the scrumptious candy kingdom of Sweetieland.
Edinburgh Festival Theatre, 13–29 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, 0131 529 6000

Harry Panto and the Goblet of Fuck Yeah! (In 3d), 19:30

A unique 3D experience, the Panto tells the story of a young wizard and his friends as they arrive back at their young wizard training academy for a fresh term of Christmas antics. With magic. And explosions.
An unauthorised parody, the Harry Panto is a charitable performance. All proceeds will be donated to charity.
Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 225 9893

Music

Scottish Chamber Orchestra: Christmas Oratorio, 19:30, £9.50 - £28 (concessions available)

Bach: Christmas Oratorio – Cantatas 1, 3, 5 & 6 (Sung in German)
Richard Egarr: conductor/harpsichord; Mhairi Lawson: soprano; Clare Wilkinson: mezzo soprano; Andrew Staples: tenor; Andrew Foster-Williams: bass and the SCO Chorus
The Queen's Hall, 87–89 Clerk Street, Edinburgh, 0131 668 2019

For live music in pubs visit www.gigguide.co.uk

Comedy

The Thursday Show, Doors 19:30, Show 20:00 £8 (conc. £7)

The weekend starts here! Five acts on a two hour stand-up showcase. Featuring our ace comperes, the best headliners on the circuit, several support acts and a short spot for a newcomer. Great show and great value as it's usually the same line-up as our premium Saturday night show for a fiver less. Hot food available.
The Stand, 5 York Place, 0131 558 7272

Theatre

We Will Rock You, 19:30, £26.00–£44.00 (showing until 7th January)

The smash hit Queen and Ben Elton musical We Will Rock You is returning to the Edinburgh Playhouse, following its award-winning 2009 run. The production is directed by Ben Elton, with Queen's Brian May and Roger Taylor as music supervisors and Arlene Phillips overseeing the musical staging and choreography.
Edinburgh Playhouse, 18-22 Greenside Place, Edinburgh, EH1 3AA, Box office: 0844 847 1660

Aladdin, 10:00 & 19:00, £13.75 (£10.75), family £47 (showing until 7th January)

In ancient Peking, in the little known Scottish enclave of Musselburgh, only one boy can help the evil Abanazar find the magic lamp that will make him the most powerful warlock in the world. That boy is Aladdin. However, Aladdin couldn't care less about such things; he only has eyes for the beautiful Thistle Blossom, the bonniest lass in the land. Produced by Brunton Theatre and written and directed by Liam Rudden, this is a brand new pantomime for 2011.
Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Road, Musselburgh, EH21 6AA, 0131 665 2240

Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker, 19:30, £12-£31

New Adventures' inspired production of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker! returns to Edinburgh. This delicious theatrical feast has family sized helpings of Matthew Bourne's trademark wit, pathos and magical fantasy. Nutcracker! follows Clara's bittersweet journey from a bleak night at Dr. Dross' Orphanage for waifs and strays, through a shimmering, ice-skating, winter wonderland to the scrumptious candy kingdom of Sweetieland. Edinburgh Festival Theatre, 13-29 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, 0131 529 6000

Harry Panto and the Goblet of Fuck Yeah! (In 3d), 19:30

A unique 3D experience, the Panto tells the story of a young wizard and his friends as they arrive back at their young wizard training academy for a fresh term of Christmas antics. With magic. And explosions.

An unauthorised parody, the Harry Panto is a charitable performance. All proceeds will be donated to charity.

Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 225 9893

Beauty and the Beast, 19:00, £7-£24 (until the 31st of December)

He is duty-bound to return or send another in his place and, though she's scared, brave Beauty vows to honour her father's word and face the terrible monster. As the pair gradually overcome their differences and become friends, the malevolent witch Crackjaw plots and schemes to defeat all that is good and pure. Can Beauty and the Beast stop her evil plan, and prove that love really does conquer all?

Royal Lyceum Theatre, Grindlay Street, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 248 4848

Music

RSNO - Osborne Plays Shostakovich, 19:30, £11-£34

Debussy Printemps Shostakovich Concerto for Piano, Trumpet & Strings Debussy Jeux Shostakovich Piano Concerto No2 Stéphane Denève (CONDUCTOR) Steven Osborne (PIANO) John Gracie (TRUMPET) Usher Hall, Lothian Road, Edinburgh, 0131 228 1155

LAU plus support, 20:00, £12-£15 + £1.50 bf

Lau: this generation's most inventive folk band return to The Queen's Hall for one final flourish in 2011. Programme to be finalised, please check the website
The Queen's Hall, 87-89 Clerk Street, Edinburgh, 0131 668 2019

For live music in pubs visit

www.gigguide.co.uk

Comedy

The Friday Show, Doors 19:00, Show 21:00 £10 (conc £9)

Let your hair down at the end of the week with fabulous fun this Friday. We've put together a prime stand-up show. We open from 7pm so you can take advantage of our lovely hot food available.

The Stand, 5 York Place, Edinburgh, 0131 558 7272

Foster's Comedy Live present a White Christmas, Doors Open 18:30 Show Starts 21:00, £40

The ultimate Christmas party in Edinburgh! This year at highlight Edinburgh you get to enjoy a hilarious show with the very best acts and stand-up comedians brought to you by Foster's Comedy Live (sponsors of the British Comedy Awards and Edinburgh Comedy Awards) who will have you in side-splitting laughter from act to act. Not only that, but you'll also be treated to a mouth-watering festive feast and an after-show party to keep your Christmas spirit soaring long into the night.

Highlight, Unit 6/7 Omni Leisure Development, Greenside Place, Edinburgh, 0844 844 0044

The Improverts 22:30 £5 (£4)

Edinburgh's resident improv comedy troupe return for their third decade at the Bedlam Theatre. Hilarious games based entirely on audience suggestions, a whole different show every night. Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, EH1 1EZ, Box office: 0131 225 9893

Miscellaneous

Diary of a Child Genius: Marjory Fleming, 19:00, £6/£4 concession

A tribute to the extraordinary child diarist Marjory Fleming to mark the two hundredth year of her death. The programme features a galaxy of her admirers from Mark Twain to Richard Demarco in the present day, celebrating her life with music, story and song from leading Scottish performers. Scottish Storytelling Centre, 43-45 High Street, Edinburgh, EH1 1SR, 0131 556 9579

Sport

Edinburgh Rugby v Aironi, 19:30, £5-£15

Join us for the return fixture on our patch as we set to put things right
Murrayfield Stadium, Roseburn Street, Edinburgh EH12 5PJ, Tel: 0131 346 5000

Theatre

Beauty and the Beast, 14:30 & 19:00, £7-£24 (showing until the 31st of December)

He is duty-bound to return or send another in his place and, though she's scared, brave Beauty vows to honour her father's word and face the terrible monster. As the pair gradually overcome their differences and become friends, the malevolent witch Crackjaw plots and schemes to defeat all that is good and pure. Can Beauty and the Beast stop her evil plan, and prove that love really does conquer all?

Royal Lyceum Theatre, Grindlay Street, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 248 4848

Harry Panto and the Goblet of Fuck Yeah! (In 3d), 19:30

A unique 3D experience, the Panto tells the story of a young wizard and his friends as they arrive back at their young wizard training academy for a fresh term of Christmas antics. With magic. And explosions.

An unauthorised parody, the Harry Panto is a charitable performance. All proceeds will be donated to charity.

Bedlam Theatre, 11b Bristo Place, Edinburgh, Box office: 0131 225 9893

The Kings' panto: Cinderella, 14:00 & 19:00, preview performances, prices vary

Scotland's most popular dame, Allan Stewart, is back in the greatest pantomime of them all! Andy Gray stars alongside as the lovable Buttons, and get ready to boo and hiss your favourite baddie, Grant Stott, who seems to have taken a shine to the high heels he wore in last year's panto!

King's Theatre, 2 Leven Street, Edinburgh, EH3 9LQ, Box office: 0131 529 6000

We Will Rock You, 14:30 & 19:30, £26.00-£44.00 (showing until 7th January)

The smash hit Queen and Ben Elton musical We Will Rock You is returning to the Edinburgh Playhouse, following its award-winning 2009 run. The production is directed by Ben Elton, with Queen's Brian May and Roger Taylor as music supervisors and Arlene Phillips overseeing the musical staging and choreography.

Edinburgh Playhouse, 18-22 Greenside Place, Edinburgh, EH1 3AA, Box office: 0844 847 1660

Aladdin, 14:00 & 19:00, £16.00 (£13.00), family £56 (showing until 7th January)

In ancient Peking, in the little known Scottish enclave of Musselburgh, only one boy can help the evil Abanazar find the magic lamp that will make him the most powerful warlock in the world. That boy is Aladdin. However, Aladdin couldn't care less about such things; he only has eyes for the beautiful Thistle Blossom, the bonniest lass in the land. Produced by Brunton Theatre and written and directed by Liam Rudden, this is a brand new pantomime for 2011.

Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Road, Musselburgh, EH21 6AA, 0131 665 2240

Matthew Bourne's Nutcracker, 14:30 & 19:30, £12-£31

New Adventures' inspired production of Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker! returns to Edinburgh. This delicious theatrical feast has family sized helpings of Matthew Bourne's trademark wit, pathos and magical fantasy. Nutcracker! follows Clara's bittersweet journey from a bleak night at Dr. Dross' Orphanage for waifs and strays, through a shimmering, ice-skating, winter wonderland to the scrumptious candy kingdom of Sweetieland.

Edinburgh Festival Theatre, 13-29 Nicolson Street, Edinburgh, 0131 529 6000

Dance Base: Jingle Boogie, 19:30, £8-£12

The legendary Dance Base Christmas Shows are back this year with the usual stellar line up of performances from kids and adults from Dance Base's classes and outreach groups

The Queen's Hall, 87-89 Clerk Street, Edinburgh, 0131 668 2019

Music

Origin Scotland's Christmas According to Hollywood, 19:30, £8-£15

This year The Exile Band, Choir and Orchestra explode onto the stage with an all-new show, Christmas According to Hollywood, with help from St Peter's Primary School Choir. Expect some awesome tunes, groovy Gospel, Hollywood moments, many laughs and your favourite carols. Enjoy the experience and variety of what celebrating Christmas is all about.

Usher Hall, Lothian Road, Edinburgh, 0131 228 1155

For live music in pubs visit

www.gigguide.co.uk

Ceilidh

Winter Ceilidh, 19:00, £6.50-£9

Hud Yer Wheesht Band. Crazy funky dancing. 100% of profits from bar, door and raffle to Refugee Survival Trust.

Rudolf Steiner Hall, 60, Spylaw Road, Edinburgh EH10 5BR, Tel 07946 226 208

Comedy

The Saturday Show. Doors 19:00, Show 21:00 £15

Our fabulous flagship Saturday show has been sold out every week for the past five years. And no wonder- it's the best night out in Edinburgh. We're open from 7pm so you can take advantage of our lovely food.

The Stand, 5 York Place, Edinburgh 0131 558 7272  Please note we require a payment in advance for Saturday evenings

Foster's Comedy Live present a White Christmas, Doors Open 18:30 Show Starts 21:00, SOLD OUT

The ultimate Christmas party in Edinburgh! This year at highlight Edinburgh you get to enjoy a hilarious show with the very best acts and stand-up comedians brought to you by Foster's Comedy Live (sponsors of the British Comedy Awards and Edinburgh Comedy Awards) who will have you in side-splitting laughter from act to act. Not only that, but you'll also be treated to a mouth-watering festive feast and an after-show party to keep your Christmas spirit soaring long into the night.

Highlight, Unit 6/7 Omni Leisure Development, Greenside Place, Edinburgh, 0844 844 0044

Food and Drink

Farmer's Market, 9:00 – 14:00, Free
Castle Terrace, Edinburgh

Weekly Food Market, 10:00-14:00, Free
A weekly local shop for Leithers in search of quality ethical goods including food, drink and household items, all sourced from within 100 miles of Edinburgh

Out of the Blue Drill Hall, 30–36 Dalmeny Street, Leith, Edinburgh, EH6 9DB, Tel 0131 555 7100

Sport

Heart of Midlothian v St Johnstone, 15:00
SPL Football Match
Tynecastle Stadium, McLeod Street, Edinburgh

SUNDAY 4th December

Theatre

The Kings' panto: Cinderella, 13:00 & 17:00, prices vary (showing until 22 January)
Scotland's most popular dame, Allan Stewart, is back in the greatest pantomime of them all! Andy Gray stars alongside as the lovable Buttons, and get ready to boo and hiss your favourite baddie, Grant Stott, who seems to have taken a shine to the high heels he wore in last year's panto!

King's Theatre, 2 Leven Street, Edinburgh, EH3 9LQ, Box office: 0131 529 6000

Dance Base: Showflakes, 14:00, £8-£12

The legendary Dance Base Christmas Shows are back this year with the usual stellar line up of performances from kids and adults from Dance Base's classes and outreach groups.

The Queen's Hall, 87–89 Clerk Street, Edinburgh, 0131 668 2019

Music

Children's Classic Concerts - Christmas Swingalong, 15:00, £6-£15 (family tickets available)

Swing on down to the Usher Hall to join Owen and Ollie for a Christmas concert that's so cool, it's hot! Sing along to Disney classics while the sensational saxophones, brilliant brass and rocking rhythm section of the RSNO Big Band set your toes tapping

Usher Hall, Lothian Road, Edinburgh, 0131 228 1155

St Giles' at Six, 18:00, Organ Recital, Free

Michael Harris

Messiaen La Nativité du Seigneur

St Giles Cathedral, High Street, Royal Mile

For live music in pubs visit

www.gigguide.co.uk

Comedy

Whose Lunch is it Anyway? Doors 12:30 Show: 13:30, Free

Our long-running improvised comedy show will have you in stitches. Marvel as resident duo Stu & Garry weave comedy magic from your suggestions. It's the perfect way to nurse a hangover and a sure-fire way to kick-start your weekend after the big night out. There's a special menu too so you'll be in danger of laughing with your mouth full.

The Stand, 5 York Place, 0131 558 7272

The Sunday Night Laugh-in, Doors 19:30 Show 20:30, £6 (conc. £5, members £1)

Round off the weekend with our comedy cocktail which has the emphasis on the chilled and the laid back. At least five acts on each bill ensure variety and its great value at just a fiver.

The Stand, 5 York Place, Edinburgh 0131 558 7272

Food and Drink

The Stockbridge Market, 10:00 - 17:00, Free.

The market is in the park bordered by Saunders Street and Kerr Street.

Exhibitions November

Scottish National Gallery of Modern Art One

75 Belford Road
Edinburgh O131 624 6200
Daily 10:00-17:00

Permanent Collection (1 January - 31 December)

Outstanding collection of international post-war art and the country's most significant collection of modern Scottish art, featuring works by Francis Bacon, David Hockney, Andy Warhol and Lucian Freud alongside more contemporary pieces by artists including Antony Gormley, Gilbert & George, Damien Hirst and Tracey Emin. The collection also includes early 20th-century French and Russian art, Cubist paintings and important examples of Expressionist pieces, including works by Picasso and Matisse.

Scottish National Gallery of Modern Art Two

(formally Dean Gallery),
Belford Road, EDINBURGH, O131 624 6200
10:00-17:00

Permanent Collection, (1 January - 31 December), Tickets: Free

Dean Gallery is home to a world-famous selection of works from the Dada and Surrealist movements and houses a large collection of works by Edinburgh-born sculptor Sir Eduardo Paolozzi

The Scottish Colourist Series: FCB Cadell (22 October - 18 March 2012) Free

The first of a series of retrospectives about the four artists known as the 'Scottish Colourists'. Francis Campbell Boileau Cadell (1883–1937) was born in Edinburgh and is remembered for his interiors, still lives and landscapes of Scotland and France.

Royal Scottish Academy

The Mound
EDINBURGH, O131 225 6671
Mon–Sat 10:00–17:00; Sun 12:00–17:00. NB certain exhibitions are open Mon 10:00-17:00 only

Muse: Paintings from the RSA Collections (until 2 January 2012) Free

Pictures of women by male painters from the Academy's collections, from the late 18th century to the early 21st century.

RSA Open 2011 (12 November - 18 December)

A selling exhibition of small works sourced by open selection from artists across Scotland, running the gamut from painting to architecture via film, photography, sculpture, prints and more.

Scottish National Gallery

The Mound,
EDINBURGH, O131 624 6200
Fri-Wed 10:00-17:00, Thu 10:00-19:00

Permanent Collection

Internationally-significant collection of classical art from the early Renaissance to the end of the 19th century, including pieces by Raphael, El Greco, Velázquez, Rubens, Van Gogh, Monet, Cézanne, Degas and Gauguin. The collection also features a comprehensive overview of pre-20th-century Scottish painting with pieces by Ramsay, Raeburn, Wilkie and McTaggart.

Elizabeth Blackadder, (2 July - 2 January 2012) Tickets: £8 (£6)

Major retrospective of the work of Falkirk-born Edinburgh University and ECA alumnus Dame Elizabeth Blackadder, who turns 80 this year. Her well-loved work covers many media, and subject matter ranges from the everyday to observations made during her extensive world travels.

George Bain: Master of Modern Celtic Art (15 October - 13 February 2012) Free

George Bain (1881–1968) was one of the most important figures in the 20th century revival of Celtic art, through both his work as an artist and his highly influential manual Celtic Art: The Methods of Construction, still a standard text on the subject. This display features examples of his watercolours, drawings, sculptures and jewellery and includes much material that has never been publicly exhibited before.

National War Museum of Scotland

Edinburgh Castle
Edinburgh 0131 225 4413
Mon-Sun 09:45-16:45

Humanity in War (25 February 2011 until 2012)
Free

Humanity in War will depict warfare across the last 150 years from the American Civil War to the conflicts of the early twenty-first century through stunning photography selected from the collection of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC).

National Museum of Scotland

Chambers Street, Edinburgh, 0300 123 6789
Mon-Sun: 10:00-17:00

Admiral Cochrane – The Real Master and Commander (7 October - 19 February 2012)

Thomas Cochrane, 10th Earl of Dundonald, was a bundle of contradictions. A brilliant and aggressive naval commander, he was also a fiercely radical politician; over the course of his long career he was a national hero not just in Britain but also in Chile and Brazil, for his efforts in their respective wars of independence, and yet a couple of years earlier he'd been sentenced to a year in prison for stock exchange fraud. His life inspired CS Forester's Hornblower novels as well as Patrick O'Brian's Jack Aubrey. Discover more about this extraordinary Scotsman in this major exhibition.

National Library of Scotland

George IV Bridge, Edinburgh, EH1 1EW 0131 623 3700
Mon-Fri 10:00-20:00, Sat 10:00-17:00, Sun 14:00-17:00

The John Murray Archive - Permanent exhibition.

The writers and thinkers of John Murray's publishing firm shaped the modern world through their works of literature, science, exploration and politics.

Inverleith House, Royal Botanic Gardens

Edinburgh, Arboretum Place, Edinburgh, 0131 552 7171
Mon-Sun 10:00-17:30

Andrew Kerr (12 October - 22 January)

New work from the Glasgow-based artist.

Thomas Houseago: The Beat of the Show (until 21 June 2012) Free

Thomas Houseago is a Leeds-born but Los Angeles-based sculptor whose work references cubism and futurism while maintaining a deliberately clumsy and unassuming integrity of its own. This show features outdoor sculptures, mostly in bronze and many on display for the first time.

Pteridomania: The Victorian Passion for Ferns (12 October - 4 December)

A display of artefacts and period artwork illustrating the Victorian obsession with ferns.

John Hope Gateway Centre, Royal Botanic Gardens

Edinburgh, Arboretum Place, Edinburgh, 0131 552 7171
Mon-Sun 10:00-17:30

Transformations (10 September - 4 December)

Exhibiting for the first time outside Ireland, see the beautifully crafted work of the West Cork Craft and Design Guild. Working in textiles, ceramics, wood or metal these artists are inspired not only by their materials but by the changing landscape

The Queen's Gallery,

Palace of Holyroodhouse, EDINBURGH, 0131 556 5100
Wed-Tue 09:30-18:00, Wed-Tue 09.30-16:30

Northern Renaissance: Dürer to Holbein (17 June - 15 January 2012)

An impressive collection of works by Northern European artists of the turbulent 15th and 16th centuries is brought together in the gallery of the Palace of Holyroodhouse. The exhibition features prints, oil paintings and even some preparatory drawings by Albrecht Dürer, Lucas Cranach the Elder and Hans Holbein the Younger.

City Art Centre

2 Market Street, Edinburgh, EH1 1DE, 0131 529 3993
Mon-Sat 10:00-17:00, Sun 12:00-17:00

Reflection: Contemporary Visual Arts and Crafts in Edinburgh (19 November - 12 February)

A group show of 22 artists and makers in a wide variety of media; the work was selected from an open call for entries.

That Was Then: This is NOW (10 November - 8 January)

A retrospective of the work of STAR Tapestry.*

The Museum of Edinburgh

Huntly House, 142 Canongate, Royal Mile, High Street, Edinburgh EH8 8DD, 0131 529 4143
Mon-Sat 10:00-17:00

Decorative Art Collections

The museum houses spectacular collections of decorative art which reveal a rich history of Scottish craftsmanship

The People's Story

Canongate Tolbooth, Royal Mile, Edinburgh EH8
8BN, 0131 529 4057
Mon-Sat 10:00-17:00

Raise The Banners High

A colourful new display of Trade Union, Reform and Friendly Society Banners.

The Writer's Museum

Lady Stairs House, Lady Stairs Close,
Lawnmarket, Edinburgh EH1 2PA, 0131 529 4901
Mon-Sat 10:00-17:00...

Permanent Exhibition

The Writers' Museum celebrates the lives of three great Scottish writers – Robert Burns, Sir Walter Scott and Robert Louis Stevenson.

Fruitmarket Gallery.

45 Market Street, Edinburgh, 0131 225 2383
Mon-Sat 11:00-18:00; Sun 12:00-17:00

Bill Bollinger (28 October - 6 January 2012)

The short but productive career of elusive American artist Bollinger gets its first overview in this exhibition organised by the Kunstmuseum Liechtenstein. As well as sculptures that combine technical, industrial and domestic items and materials in radical ways, the display includes sketchbooks, photographs and documentary material connected to the artist's work.

Talbot Rice Gallery, University of Edinburgh

South Bridge, Edinburgh 0131 650 2210
Tue - Sat 10:00-17:00

Beholder (19 November - 18 February)

An innovative exhibition exploring ideas of taste and beauty, curated as part of David Hume's 300th birthday celebrations.

Stills

23 Cockburn Street, Edinburgh 0131 622 6200
Mon-Sun 11:00-18:00

Ingleby Gallery

15 Calton Road, Edinburgh, 0131 556 4441
Mon-Fri 10:00-18:00 Thurs 10:00-19:00 Sat 10:00-18:00
www.inglebygallery.com

Alison Watt: Hiding in Full View (5 November - 28 January)

Works by Greenock-born painter Alison Watt, inspired by the work of American photographer Francesca Woodman.

Leith Gallery

65 The Shore, Leith, Edinburgh, 0131 553 5255
Mon-Fri 11:00-17:00 Sat 11:00-16:00
www.the-leith-gallery.co.uk

Patriot Gallery

WASPS Patrioath Studios off 48 Hamilton Place,
Edinburgh, 0131 226 7126
Mon-Sat 12:00-17:00
www.patriotgallery.co.uk

Edinburgh Printmakers.

Union Street, EDINBURGH, 0131 557 2479
Tue-Sat 10:00-18:00
www.edinburgh-printmakers.co.uk

Hidden City: Edinburgh Uncovered (12 November - 23 December)

The Printmakers' Gallery hosts its largest annual members' show, with a host of prints exploring the hidden corners, nooks and crannies of an otherwise familiar urban landscape.

Scottish Storytelling Centre

43-45 High Street, Edinburgh, 0131 556 9579
Mon-Sat 10:00-18:00
www.scottishstorytellingcentre.co.uk

The Scottish Gallery,

16 Dundas Street, Edinburgh, 0131 558 1200
Mon-Fri 10:00-18:00 Sat 10:00-16:00
www.scottish-gallery.co.uk

Collective Gallery,

Cockburn Street, EDINBURGH, 0131 220 1260
Tue-Sun 11:00-17:00
www.collectivegallery.net

The Henderson Gallery

4 Thistle Street Lane NW, Edinburgh, 0131 225 7464
Tues-Sat 11:00-17:00
www.hendersonsofedinburgh.co.uk

Peter Standen, Future Cityscapes (21 November - 2 December)

Standen's first solo show in 20 years, consisting of stunning and grimly witty views of post- and during-apocalypse Edinburgh and Glasgow.